Necessity is the mother of invention and also of excuses.

Some family trees have borne nothing but wormy fruit in recent years.

Yes, Johnnie; few if any crooks try to travel the straight and narrow road.

Nearly every man knows he can write moving picture scenarios unless he has tried it.

It is safer, and also less expensive, for lovers to gas on the steps than to step on the gas.

Better let the stuff alone. Home brew has caused trouble from the days of Noah on down.

Many of those who claim that prohibition will not work have never believed in it, anyway.

There is still money in farming. An Iowa man plowed up $1,300 in gold coins the other day.

By the way, does anybody know what has become of the Hon. Richmond Pearson Hobson?

Have you tried the new 10c package? Dealers now carry both: 10 for 10c, 20 for 20c. It's toasted.

Another of the mysteries of life is why the other fellow's poor judgment so often works out right.

A peevish old bachelor remarked the other day that he believed that all the babies in town had organized a bawl club.

As there are only 3,372 first class postoffices in the country, many Republican politicians are bound to be disappointed.

We know a man who still uses a horse and buggy. But there is no mortgage on his home and he has money in the bank.

An Indiana man is the father of 32 children. And a London paper suggests that he should be invited to join the League of Nations.

Democratic leaders are predicting a Democratic victory in 1922, and Republican victory. And here you are.

A fellow who doesn't like the stuff remarked the other day that eggs might be cheaper if so many of them were not wasted in making mayonnaise.

There is a good deal of talk about a standard of wages and a standard of living, but what is needed quite as badly as anything else is a standard of work.

A court decision has given a Louisiana negro woman an oil property valued at $20,000,000. This is one negro who should have no quarrel with the white man's courts.

A contemporary asks, What does a man cherish most—his wife or his pocketbook? Well, we would say that it depends upon the kind of wife that he has—and the size of his pocketbook.

Early--Donegan.

A wedding of much interest to a large circle of friends here, and in Nashville, was that of Miss Winiford Mai Donegan, of Nashville, to William E. Early, of Gainesboro. The wedding took place Thursday afternoon, June 9th, at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride in Nashville. Rev. H. H. Wise officiating.

The bride wore for her wedding a costume of embroidered grey Crepe De Chine with accessories to match. She is an accomplished musician and is very popular with her circle of friends.

A wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lewis Williams, in Inglewood.

After a brief wedding trip the popular young couple arrived Monday in Gainesboro, where the groom is a successful young business man, being connected with his brother, K. A. Early, as interior decorator and painter.

The Sentinel extends congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Darwin, of Cookeville, are happy over the arrival of a fine boy, which the old stork left for them Saturday morning. Here's hoping he will become as famous as his dad, grand-dad's and all the other noted men in history.

Capt. John Quarles, of Cookeville, continues to grow weaker and unless a change is made for the better in a short time his remaining time on earth is short. He is 83 years old and has been very remarkable man in a great many respects. We hope father time will spare his life for some time.

THEY may not believe you but the pictures prove it. And the Kodak record of your catch does more than merely "convince" your friends. Permanent and personal, it becomes a pleasant reminder of your outing.

Take a Kodak with you

While any Kodak is compact, the Vest Pocket Kodak with belt case particularly appeals to the sportsman. He wears the camera on his belt. The V. P. K. costs $8.00, the belt case $0.75.

S. M. Heady Dies After A Brief Illness.

S. M. Haedy, age 56, died Monday morning, June 13, at 8:30 o'clock at his home near Stone, after an illness of only a few days of pneumonia.

Funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the Christian church at Stone, conducted by Bro. Marion Harris. A large concourse of relatives and friends attended. Interment in the Johnson cemetery near the home.

Beside his wife the deceased is survived by eleven children, one brother, W. C. Heady of Spencer, two sisters, Mrs. Tom Fuqua, of Freestate, and Mrs. Zeb Young of Hendersonville.

He was a member of the Christian church. He was a true and loving husband and father, and will be greatly missed in the home and community.

Did you ever notice that one who urges you to "take a chance," as a rule, isn't taking any chance himself.

The thing that you are excited into a fever about today will be something to laugh about in six months.

The Very Best Lye Your Money Can Buy

Follow directions when you use Red Seal Lye. There is a full printed set on the reverse side of the label. Simply tear this off, and keep it for reference.

Make 10 lbs. of Soap and Save $1.00

THE cleansing power in any soap or cleanser you buy is lye. Soap is tallow (grease) mixed with lye and water. You can make it yourself and save a great deal of money. It will suit your needs better, too, for you can make just the kind of soap you want, either hard or soft.

Simply take 5½ pounds of clean grease (lard or tallow) free from salt. Melt it down. Then set aside to cool.

Take a large can of Red Seal Lye and dissolve it in 3½ pints of cold water. Bring this to about Summer heat and pour it slowly into the melted grease. Stir until the mixture becomes uniformly thick and pour into a mould. Cover up and set in a warm place until next day. Then you can cut it into pieces and you'll have 10 lbs. of the finest cleansing soap you ever used—and will have saved about $1.00.

Isn't that well worth while? You bet it is! And then just remember these other fine uses for Red Seal Lye: It is a water softener, saving a great deal of soap. It kills all disagreeable odors, purifies and disinfects at the same time. Dissolve a spoonful of it in a quart of water and you have a wonderful cleaning solution for helping lighten your work in washing dishes, doors, floors, woodwork—everything about the house. A little of it sifted into the sink cleans out the pipes and prevents them from becoming stopped up.

But make sure the lye you buy is Red Seal Lye. This pure lye is granulated and packed in cans that are easy and convenient to use. Always ask your storekeeper for, and be sure to get, the old reliable Red Seal Granulated Lye.
